

The three rights of patients in cancer registration

Patients* have three statutory rights when it comes to the registration of cancer cases. The National Agency for Cancer Registration assists them in exercising their rights.

Right to INFORMATION

Every patient has the right to be informed about the registration.

Right to OBJECT

Anyone who does not want to have their data registered may lodge an objection.

Right to DATA ACCESS

Everyone has the right to access the data registered about their illness.

Patient

*In the case of minors and under-age adults, the rights are exercised by their legal representative.
