

Well protected and encrypted

Handling of data in cancer registration

The data obtained by the cancer registration is an extract of the information recorded at the doctor's practices or in the hospital; it is subject to strict data protection regulations. Individuals cannot be identified from the published data.

